Menshikov Says Aide Denies Trying To Buy Military Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov says a junior Soviet diplomat denies trying to buy American military secrets. All Russians in this country, Menshikov says, are forbidden to do anything improper.

Menshikov told a TV panel that Nikolai I. Kurochkin, the Soviet Embassy's third secretary, has denied State Department charges that he sought to purchase secret military documents from Charles T. Beaumont, an American magazine writer.

"And I have no reason not to believe him," Menshikov said.

Kurochkin was ordered Saturday to leave the United States on grounds he paid hundreds of dollars for Army manuals and other materials and tried to get secret documents. He is expected to start for home later this week.

Beaumont, a 35-year-old magazine writer living in nearby Arlington, Va., said he never gave any classified information to the Russians. Beaumont said he received $435 over a period of months, starting last year.

Justice Department officials said Beaumont cooperated with government investigators after they questioned him about his transactions with Kurochkin. Officials said Beaumont since has been registered as a foreign agent and that the department planned no action against him.

The move to oust Kurochkin for "highly improper activities" came about three weeks after the Soviet Union had expelled John A. Baker Jr., second secretary of the U. S. Embassy in Moscow. Baker, 30, was accused of violating what the Soviets called "the norms of behavior" for diplomats. The United States has disputed the accusation against Baker.

In an interview Saturday night, Beaumont said he met Kurochkin last year after he went to the Soviet Embassy seeking material for a story on the making of stockings in the Soviet Union. At the time, Beaumont said, he was doing free-lance work for a textile industry publication.

Later, Beaumont said, Kurochkin invited him to a party at the Soviet Embassy and that subsequently he got the material he wanted from Moscow.

About five months later, Beaumont said, he lunched with the Russian who he said suggested they collaborate on some articles for Soviet publications. At this time, Beaumont said he was working for the National Geographic magazine. That magazine has said it discharged Beaumont for immature judgment.

66 Canadians Killed During Weekend

TORONTO (AP)—Sixty-six persons were killed in accidents in Canada over the weekend—more than double the number a week ago.

A Canadian Press survey covering the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday listed 34 killed in traffic accidents, 26 drowned, 10 suffocated in a house fire and five killed in other accidents.

The number did not include five mounted police officers drowned when their outboard patrol boat capsized on Lake Simcoe.

Persons killed on duty are not counted in the survey.

First Nuclear Plane May Be Without Crew

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's first nuclear-powered aircraft may be unmanned and radio controlled.

It may circle for six months or a year, remote from populated regions, and then be landed for detailed studies of radiation, wear and parts fatigue.

Such test flight could bring to light any unexpected problems and help assure safety of crews later.

These possibilities were being discussed in the aviation industry today in the light of a new brochure on "Aircraft Nuclear Propulsion Systems Applications for the National Defense," distributed by General Electric Atomic Products Division.

The GE Aircraft Nuclear Propulsion Department, Cincinnati, has been working for more than five years to develop materials, methods and engineering concepts for nuclear aircraft. Work has been under way both at its Evansdale, Ohio, plant and at the Idaho Falls, Idaho, atomic energy installation.

Violent Winds, Tornadoes Lash Central Illinois

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent winds and tornadoes lashed parts of northwestern and central Illinois Sunday night, toppling trees, snarling roads with rubble and snatching communications.

Heavy rain and hail followed a wind storm that cut through Ogle and Carroll Counties in northwestern Illinois, hitting at least four communities—Shannon, Forreston, Mount Morris, and Oregon. Authorities reported scores of trees felled from the winds but little property damage.

An unidentified motorist was injured in an auto mishap. He was hospitalized in Freeport.

Motorists were involved in minor accidents in Oregon, where winds also snapped power lines touching off five small fires.

Three hours later, twin tornadoes touched down in open fields near the central Illinois communities of Sullivan and Mattoon. No injuries were reported from the twisters.

Both Forreston and Shannon were briefly cut off from communication.

Residents in the area told of seeing "a tall that came in low after everything got black." It was not confirmed as a tornado.

Mrs. Floyd Gesin, who lives about a mile west of Forreston, said she glanced out the window and saw a shed take to the air.

While the shed was in the air, she said, "it turned over and then began twisting apart. All of the pieces blew around the corner of the house and landed about 300 feet away on the highway."

State and county highway departments went into action clearing the roads in the area. They were assisted by civil defense units.

Showers and thunderstorms continued throughout the state today but a cool front brought lower temperatures in the north. The mercury headed toward the 90s in the southern part of the state.

Readings were in the 90s Sunday throughout much of the state. Rantoul had 86 and Springfield, Quincy and Vandalia 95.

The Weather Bureau forecast near normal temperatures for the next five days with one to two inches of rainfall Tuesday or Wednesday and again Friday or Saturday.

DIES IN TRAILER FIRE
ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Edgar Munson, 47, a machine operator, died Saturday in a fire that destroyed his trailer home at Viola, 20 miles south of Rock Island.

Reporting "gratifying results of component tests," the GE brochure said, "Nuclear powered aircraft are capable of remaining in their element air for the major portion of their life."

The brochure did not say when atomic-powered aircraft might be ready for use. Defense officials have indicated that at least several years will be required to develop a workable military plane.

But when such planes are put into use, the company said, their long range will eliminate present heavy requirements for fuel and for tankers and air crews needed for aerial refueling operations, and will cut down sharply on the need for overseas bases.

The booklet said nuclear-powered aircraft eventually can be used either as bombers or as missile launchers on constant station aloft.

They also can be used for global surveillance in antiaircraft, early warning, weather and rescue patrol as well as in intelligence, inspection and worldwide logistic support of U. S. ground forces, it added.

GATWICK ENGLAND (AP)—Queen Elizabeth today opened what the builders described as the world's most modern airport, a 20-million-dollar project designed to take the overflow from London Airport.

The new site, named Gatwick Airport, is 30 miles south of London.

What makes it particularly impressive is its easy transport links to the capital. Instead of the hour-long bus trip to London Airport, a 40-minute rail trip will shuttle passengers from the capital to Gatwick.

Will Ask 1959 Legislature To Broaden Powers

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. Stratton said today he will ask the 1959 Legislature to broaden the powers of the attorney general.

The attorney general should have the power to crack down on fathers whose delinquency increases the case load in day to dependent children, he said.

Stratton made a similar proposal to the 1955 Legislature, which was turned down, and in the 1957 Assembly senate administration leaders made an unsuccessful bid to expand the attorney general's powers.

In remarks prepared for delivery to a meeting of the National Assn. of Attorneys General, Stratton said the state should be in position to "move into cases in which local law enforcement appears to be lagging."

He also said the attorney general should be able to act directly in law enforcement problems which are of general state-wide importance.

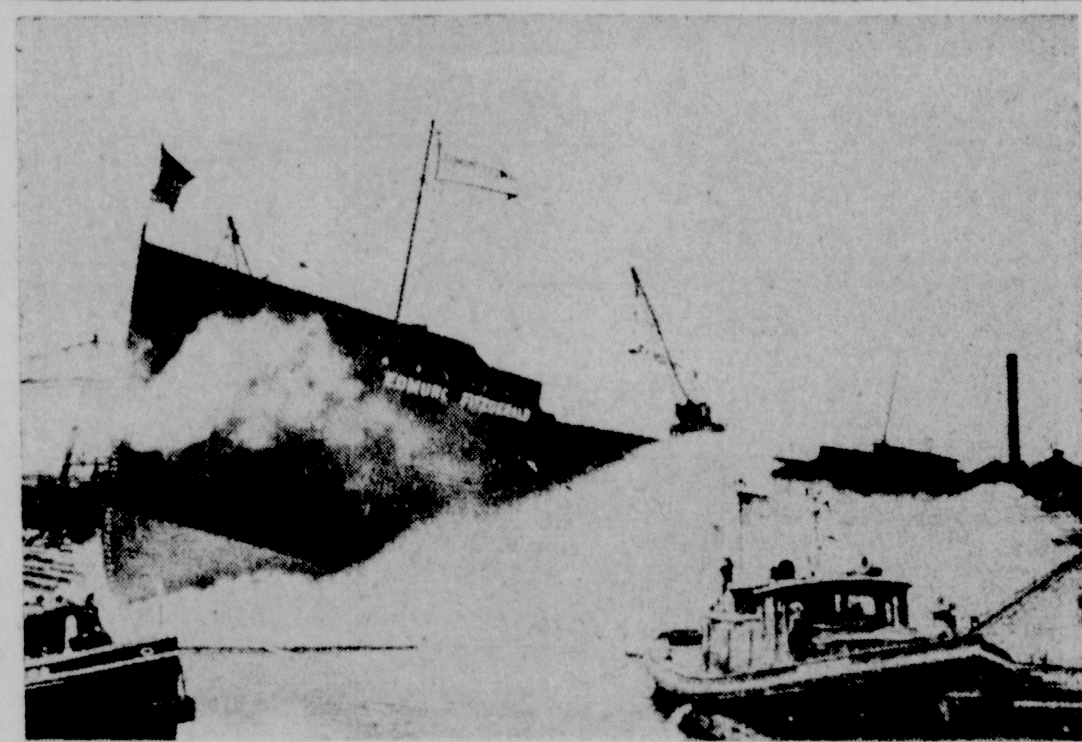

The attorney general is "the No. 1 law enforcement officer of the state and should have powers commensurate with that position," Stratton said.

Beleaguered Trade Program Goes Before House Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's beleaguered reciprocal trade program goes before the House today with its chances of survival a tossup.

As the House prepared for two days of general debate, the bitterest floor battle in the 24-year history of the one-time New Deal trade promotion act was in prospect.

6th Fleet In Training To Rescue

WITH U. S. 6TH FLEET, Off Dikili, Turkey (AP)—Major units of this mighty Mediterranean fleet assembled off the Turkish coast today to train in rescuing Americans from the turbulent countries of the Middle East.

The heavily armed amphibious force of Marines, backed up by sailors and naval aviators, are practicing for duty they might face at any moment.

If the crisis deepened in Lebanon, only 12 hours steaming to the south, the units could switch from training to the real thing.

Stevenson said a deterioration of the old system confronts us with "a creeping crisis, not as dramatic but maybe more serious and more far reaching" than the Marshall Plan was designed to meet.

"As it recedes, we see expanding eagerness to take its place, the new Communist techniques of grants, gifts, loans, trade, aid, barter, technical assistance, raw materials at cost, or plain dumping, all bent to a single political purpose—the reinforcement of Communist power," he said.

Stevenson said formal U. S. recognition of their power equality and mutual agreement to preserve it would follow logically from the facts of what is presently keeping the peace.

This course, he said, would create confidence and open an avenue for reduction.

Stevenson told a news conference after the announcement that he plans to visit the Soviet Union this summer on a trip which will take him into Soviet areas previously forbidden to foreigners.

Further out to sea lay the carriers Saratoga and Essex to lend air cover with nearly 200 planes—including jets capable of carrying nuclear bombs.

A third carrier, the Wasp, was part of the reinforcements.

One of the day's problems was to establish a beachhead on two miles of coast and control an area within a 25-mile radius by artillery, planes and gunfire.

After the exercise, the bulk of the fleet leaves for a visit to Greek and Turkish ports—still only about a day's forced sailing from smoldering Lebanon.

Jet Fighters Crash And Land In Illinois Field

MOUNT CARROLL, Ill. (AP)—One Navy jet fighter plane crashed and another landed in a field Sunday when a fuel shortage developed while the pilots waited out bad weather.

The pilots, both from Chicago and members of the Marine Corps Reserve, escaped with minor injuries.

Lt. Brook Jensen parachuted down near Clinton, Iowa, shortly before his Cougar F-101 trainer crashed near Thomson, Ill. The craft narrowly missed the Earl Depouse farm home and home and wreckage was scattered widely.

Lt. D. K. Joyce, who was flying another trainer, landed his plane in a field two miles south of Seward, Ill. His plane was not damaged.

Jensen and Joyce were returning from a training flight from Glenview Naval Air Training Station near Chicago when the station became closed in. They were directed to land at Traux Air Base near Madison, Wis., but that field also was under adverse weather conditions.

The pilots remained aloft, waiting for either Traux or Glenview to open up when their fuel became exhausted.

Man Relates How It Feels To 'Drown'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A Dallas man related how it feels to "drown" today.

Leroy Reed, 39, was rescued and revived after leg cramps caused him to go under 30 yards off shore in Lake Lavon.

While his wife and relatives watched helplessly from shore, the husky construction worker sank. Unidentified boatmen cruising nearby rescued him, hauled him ashore, and successfully administered artificial respiration.

"I was swimming along fine when all of a sudden my legs began to draw up under me," Reed said.

"I couldn't straighten them out. I was scared. I had to fight to get my head above water. I sank again. I fought my way up again and shouted to my wife."

Reed said a "funny feeling" routed his panic as he sank the second time.

"All of a sudden I began feeling good. I felt good all over."

"Everything seemed to go good. I could feel a sort of pressure all over me. And everything seemed to be drifting back away from me. The whole world was moving back—but it felt good."

Ella Mae Reed, 28, his wife, said she watched her mate fight for his way to the surface three times more, then disappear. Reed said he remembered nothing of these struggles.

He insisted he felt relaxed and was not fighting.

Army Still Needs 900,000 Men Says Secretary Brucker

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Army Brucker said today he still feels the Army needs a minimum of 900,000 men, but he is bound by the decision of superiors not to resist a 30,000 cutback.

Brucker testified before a Senate appropriations subcommittee which is considering an unasked 99 million dollars to keep the Army at its present strength.

The money was tacked on the Defense Department appropriations bill by the House.

Under questioning by Chairman Dennis Chavez (D-N.M.), Brucker said the Army recommended to Secretary of Defense McNamara last September an increase in Army manpower to 925,000.

At that time, Brucker said, the Defense Department had tentatively ordered a cutback to 890,000 but on appeal McNamara agreed to fix the limit at 920,000 men.

Brucker said he and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, "are bound by the decision of our superiors." He added, "we've done all in our power."

Chavez reminded Brucker that he could express an opinion without backing the decision.

Russia, Germany Differ —

Russia Refuses Responsibility Of Nine U. S. Men

BERLIN (AP)—Russia refused today to take responsibility for the nine U. S. Army men taken prisoner by the East German Communists Saturday when their helicopter made a forced landing inside the satellite.

Keeping up its campaign to force Western recognition of the puppet Communist government, the Russian embassy in East Berlin declared that the East German regime has jurisdiction over the American prisoners and their aircraft because the helicopter came down inside the three Allied air corridors to West Berlin.

Russian guarantees free Allied air traffic through these corridors under a 1949 Big Four agreement.

The Soviet embassy statement indicated the United States and Russia were heading into a big diplomatic wrangle over the nine Americans.

The Russian statement was in response to a newsman's question whether Russia or East Germany had jurisdiction over the Americans.

Earlier the East German government claimed it has the right to say what will be done with the helicopter and those aboard it.

A Russian Embassy spokesman said the nine Americans were being held by "responsible organs of the German Democratic Republic." He said all were well and none was injured when the helicopter came down.

Asked about rumors they had been moved from the frontier area to East Berlin, the spokesman said he thought this unlikely.

The United States does not recognize the East German Communist regime and had demanded that the Soviets in East Berlin promptly return the eight Army officers, one sergeant and their aircraft.

The helicopter belonged to the 3rd Armored Division and had been on a military exercise. U. S. authorities assumed the craft turned east due to a navigational error in a thunderstorm and ran out of gas.

It came down at Zwickau, 30 miles east of the border. The Soviet army headquarters in East Berlin said all nine men were safe and unharmed.

The East German Foreign Ministry announced it had sent the U. S. State Department a note protesting that East German airspace had been violated. The Foreign Ministry followed up today with a declaration that the fact it had sent its protest direct to the State Department showed the East German regime—and not the Soviets—has jurisdiction in the matter.

A Belgian jet fighter was forced down in East Germany 12 days ago. The Soviets have referred all Belgian queries to the East Germans.

The Americans still refused to announce the names of the nine men in the helicopter, contending that all the next-of-kin had not been notified. The Army did not confirm an East German report that one of the passengers was Maj. James Zeller, artillery training officer of the 3rd Armored Division. Zeller's home town was not given.

The East German spokesman refused to say where the men were now or when they might be released.

In Bonn, the U. S. embassy said it had not received any note from the East Germans. When it comes, an embassy official said, "we'll give it right back to them—we don't recognize them."

The awards, fourth in a series, raise to $8,664,709 the total allotted to 95 educational institutions.

San Francisco (AP)—There were skeptics at the start, but Evangelist Billy Graham's option was picked up to add one week to his San Francisco crusade in the massive Cow Palace arena—plus a final mass rally in Seals Stadium.

The seven-week run in the Cow Palace ends next Sunday. With six days rest, Graham will finish his San Francisco revival effort with an afternoon open air meeting Sunday, June 22, in the ball park of the San Francisco Giants.

The dynamic North Carolina preacher's total crusade attendance, including the ball park meeting, should near 750,000.

"The recession quite likely is a factor," said Harry Smith, Bank of America vice president and treasurer of the executive committee representing 1,200 sponsoring bay area churches and pastors.

"But more likely we were mistaken in our expectations in the preliminary budget," observed Smith, "after all the only experience we had to go by was the New York crusade last year."

The audience offerings average $6,000 a meeting.

Editorial Comment

An Encouraging Start

Premier Charles de Gaulle's program for his troubled countrymen impresses France's friends abroad as one designed not to undercut free government but to shore it up and equip it to deal with such perennial problems as Algeria.

The general may be unduly optimistic in asking for emergency powers for only six months. The pace of the events incident to his coming to power suggests that the French simply cannot move fast, no matter how critical the hour.

But what is important is that he himself sees an early limit to this extraordinary grant under which he will govern without recourse to the National Assembly.

Similarly, in requesting action on constitutional reforms, including a national referendum, De Gaulle advances principles undeniably democratic in character.

He wants any new government rooted in full popular voting and in the idea of governmental responsibility to the elected parliament.

At the same time, however, he wants an effective separation between the legislature and the executive authority. Lack of that separation, weakness of the executive, has been a prime factor in the instability that has marked the postwar course of French political history.

This much must surely come out of the second De Gaulle phase in France's turbulent years. Anything less could mean only a return, after De Gaulle, to the old sad succession of futile governments.

The general showed ingenuity and originality in naming a cabinet studded on the one hand with party leaders serving as deputy premiers and career men ably qualified to dig hard into France's festering difficulties.

The first and the supreme test, of course, will be Algeria. The reaction of the insurrectionists there to De Gaulle's cabinet was displeasure and disappointment. It contains too many liberals for their taste.

But De Gaulle will have broad authority to seek reforms in France's relations with its overseas territories. And there is considerable feeling this may open the door to full independence for Algeria and some other areas, on terms reasonably suitable to them.

Beyond doubt, if his coming to power is to have any enduring significance, Gen. de Gaulle must find a solution to Algeria. If he were to fail in this, his emergency government would in the end be no better than the 25 governments which preceded him. For it was on that rock that the Fourth Republic finally floundered.

Fishing For What?

When the phrase "appearances are deceiving" was concocted, the author must have been thinking of the Russians. They have over the decades elevated deception virtually to a way of life.

A current example is the presence of a half dozen Soviet fishing boats 100 miles off the Canadian coast in international waters. On the surface, nothing striking about that, since fishing fleets of other lands commonly visit these waters.

But the Russian vessels never leave, no matter what the season, no matter whether fish are running or not. When one ship leaves to go home, another promptly takes its place.

Too bad there's no international agency with power to go aboard and inspect. Those "fishing" boats probably have about as much to do with fishing as the Staten Island ferry.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Stroke and Exhaustion Are Chief Dangers From Hot Sun

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written For NEA Service

A letter from Mrs. R. raises the interesting subject of hazards from too much exposure to the sun. Incidentally, this applies to adults as well as to youngsters.

She writes that her 13-year-old son has suffered from exposure to the sun in two different summers. He suffers each time from aches and pains and with a fever of an average of 102 degrees. The amount of exposure was apparently for four hours at 80 degrees.

There are two principal reactions to too much exposure to the sun. The two conditions are commonly called sunstroke and heat exhaustion. Both are serious and in both prevention is better than treatment.

When sunstroke is most serious, the result is complete loss of consciousness. The face develops a peculiar red flush and the skin is hot and dry.

Fever sometimes up to 109 degrees or more may be present. Both the pulse (heart beat) and breathing are abnormal. It is a highly dangerous condition.

If the victim can be kept alive for two days recovery is probable. However, one attack increases the susceptibility to heat in the future.

In sunstroke the normal methods which the body has of maintaining its heat regulation seem to be entirely upset. It calls for prompt and even radical treatment.

Heat exhaustion is a less severe reaction to hot sun or excessive heat. It is related to sunstroke and shades gradually into the more serious condition. However, most physicians differentiate between heat exhaustion and sunstroke because the latter is so much more dangerous.

In heat exhaustion, the principal symptoms are dizziness, excessive sweating, decrease in the amount of urine, a feeling of great weakness, paleness and a speeded pulse and rapid breathing.

Victims of heat exhaustion do not usually lose consciousness. Sometimes muscles of the abdomen or the limbs develop pain of cramp-like nature. The mouth temperature is likely to be below normal or only slightly raised.

Heat exhaustion tends to come on much more slowly than sunstroke. Headache, loss of appetite, constipation and muscular weakness may precede for several days the development of characteristic symptoms.

Rest in a cool place for quite a long time may be enough to take care of heat exhaustion, but other measures are often desirable.

Mrs. R.'s son probably suffered from heat exhaustion. He is doubtless more susceptible than the average and every effort should be made to protect him from excessive exposure to the sun in the future.

Pierre Pflimlin, premier of France, is also an expert on the textile industry.

Thinking It Over—

Speakers used to give chalk talks or illustrate their lectures with slides. Many have refined their presentations while using the old techniques. One of the more recent gadgets is the flip board or "slap board." There appears to be a bit of magic in this type of presentation.

Many speakers add to these graphic illustrations the practice of calling on specific people, as does the school teacher, the discussion leader stimulates his audience with questions which require answers from the group. This method of presenting ideas not only arouses verbal response but it arouses people to action at later moments after the discussion is ended.

It might be well to apply this procedure to our reading of the Scriptures. If we answered God's questions and put His thoughts into action in our everyday living our reading would mean more to us.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Karl Malden is going Western with a vengeance.

Not only is he learning to ride a horse, he's even thinking of settling out here.

Horse riding is one thing they don't teach at the Actor's Studio, of which Karl is one of the most distinguished alumni (Oscar "51," "A Streetcar Named Desire").

So he's out on the Warner Brothers back lot daily, learning how to look convincing in the saddle.

Fact is, Karl wasn't a member of the horse set in Gary, Ind., where he was known as Maudie Sekulovich. Nor has he felt the need to learn horsemanship until now. But he has been cast as the heavy in "The Hanging Tree," a rip-snorting Western.

"I was in one other Western, 'The Gunfighter,' a classic that was ahead of its time," he explained. "But I was lucky. I played the bartender and I never had to get on a horse."

He recalled another New York actor, the late Millard Mitchell, who played the sheriff in a picture. He contemplated learning to ride, then figured he could fake it. When Mitchell came bouncing into the scene, the director screamed, "Who told you could ride a horse?"

Malden admitted that he and his wife are thinking of settling in Hollywood at long last. They have been holdouts for the New York City life, but are being won over by the sun and the picture-making assignments.

Karl has rented a suburban Westwood house and the Maldens and their two daughters will stay there through the summer and perhaps after. There is a chance he will do another Western, this one with Marlon Brando.

When Nasser first signed the canal, he offered to pay for it by buying the company's 800,000 shares at the current market price of around $300, or 240 million dollars.

World Bank mediators made it clear to the two sides that neither of these offers made sense.

Finally the Arabs and the company were convinced that neither could be made completely happy. Then they got down to business.

The Assets of the canal company included about 200 million dollars in investments outside Egypt. These securities were locked up in Paris and London. There was no hope of getting the shareholders to give them up.

So the problem was to separate these intangible assets of the company from the tangible assets—the actual canal property in Egypt—and set the price on that.

Both sides had claims for damages arising from military actions after Egypt's seizure of the canal. But as it would have taken years to reach agreement on those claims, both were dropped.

Contrary to all earlier predictions that the Arabs would not be able to operate the canal, it is now reported that the canal is operating at 10 per cent greater capacity than it ever did before.

There still remains the problem of modernizing to carry the increasing traffic load. World Bank experts are now considering the possibility of making loans to finance development.

The problem has three parts. The immediate job is to dredge the channel from 34 to 37 foot depth, for bigger ships. This will take about three years.

The second problem will be to deepen the channel to 40 feet and to widen some of the narrower passages.

The third, a long-range prospect, is to dig a second channel parallel to the existing canal and possibly build double pipelines along the course. This is far in the future.

One favorable aspect of the canal settlement is that—far from using the canal as a choke on western Europe's shipping lifeline—Nasser now has an interest in keeping the canal open and increasing its revenues.

After All the Shouting—Suez Operating Smoothly

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the new United Arab Republic seems to have done all right by himself on the Suez Canal settlement—if the deal as now agreed on is carried out.

Best information available in Washington is that the canal is now grossing the equivalent of 115 million dollars a year. Previously Egypt got 5 million a year.

This 2,000 per cent increase gives the U. A. R. tremendous foreign exchange which it badly needs for imports.

About half the gross receipts will have to go for canal operating expenses and needed improvements.

Also, 13.6 million dollars a year will have to be paid out for six years to cover the purchase price of approximately 82 million U. S. dollars equivalent.

But Egypt's net profit should be about 50 million dollars a year.

No Small Part of the credit for bringing this deal to a conclusion is given to Vice President William A. B. Illif of the International (World) Bank, George D. Wood of First Boston Corp. and their advisers. They did not act as arbitrators, but as mediators to bring the parties together.

The background story on these negotiations gives an interesting insight on how such deals are handled.

The Suez Canal Co. originally said it would sell only on the basis of the profits it expected to make over the 12 years left in its concession. At 40 million dollars a year, that made the price 480 million dollars.

When Nasser first signed the canal, he offered to pay for it by buying the company's 800,000 shares at the current market price of around $300, or 240 million dollars.

World Bank mediators made it clear to the two sides that neither of these offers made sense.

Finally the Arabs and the company were convinced that neither could be made completely happy. Then they got down to business.

The Assets of the canal company included about 200 million dollars in investments outside Egypt. These securities were locked up in Paris and London. There was no hope of getting the shareholders to give them up.

Fresh, Crisp Room Invites Sleep in Summertime

Crisp, white curtains, white window shades, pale nylon-covered chair and pale beige carpet are highlighted by a rail striped, multicolored dacton-cotton blend in the bedspread.

BY KAY SHERWOOD
On a warm summer's night a bedroom that looks fresh and crisp is more conducive to restful sleep than one that looks wilted. Homemakers, with an eye to the season ahead are shifting the spreads and curtains to give a room maximum freshness of appearance with minimum upkeep.
Into storage go dark-colored spreads, the heavy quilts and afghans. Ready to take their place are a whole stack of new bedspreads, light in weight and made of machine-washable fabrics.
They need no more than touchup ironing, if that. Many of them will, of course, stay put in bedrooms long after the last rose has bloomed.

Channel-quilted coverlet is feather-light because of the all-synthetic combination of padding and fabric. Strips of aqua and white are defined by narrow gold threads. Matching dust ruffle and curtains pick up deeper aqua tone.

The built-in crisp look that striped patterns impart to fabrics has been acknowledged, at last, by bedspread makers.
Stripes in all sizes and colors show up in new spreads. Whether the streaks of color are bold or quiet, they can establish the color scheme of the room and little else in the way of pattern is needed.
Added surface interest is sometimes supplied by quilting. One coverlet, for example, is horizontally striped and channel-quilted in vertical lines.
Colors in this offering include any airy aqua shade, green, pink and rose and gray, or a subdued brown-and-gold combination.
The fabric which has a crisp hand and a shimmering surface is a dacton-acetate mixture that is

WSCS Holds June Meet At Home Of Mrs. McCormick

MEREDOSIA — The Methodist WSCS held its June meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William McCormick. Mrs. Margaret Petri was the assistant hostess.
Mrs. Carl Breckon led the devotional period. It began with the song "Onward Christian Soldiers" followed by the scripture reading from the third chapter of Philippians. Mrs. Breckon read a poem "I Met the Master" and the closing prayer. "Changing Patterns in the March of Missions" was the lesson, given by Mrs. Charles Metz. Mrs. Charles Schmitt reviewed the fifth chapter of the book "How God Answers Prayer."

President Mrs. Joseph Schneider conducted the business session. It was voted to pay the askings for the month—$5.00 for Africa and $5.00 to Cunningham Home. It was reported that several get well cards had been sent during the month. Mrs. Lorette VanDeventer, chairman of student work, reported that she had written six letters.

Mrs. Breckon, Mrs. Petri and Mrs. Chel Young were appointed kitchen committee members for June, July and August. The July hostesses will be Mrs. James Major and Mrs. Hildebrand; the lesson leader, Mrs. McCormick. The flowers and music committee are Mrs. Robert Lansink, Mrs. Earl Gregory, Miss Joanna Harbert, Mrs. Roy Simmons and Mrs. Elton Hinner.

The meeting adjourned with the Lord's Prayer, repeated in unison. The hostesses served light refreshments.

It isn't a mania toward cleanliness that makes several baths a day essential during summer. During a heat wave, sponging yourself several times a day is healthful. You slide away pore-clogging particles and thus allow perspiration to flow freely.

Hair She Wears May Not Be Her Own

'Fake' Pieces Offer Elegant Switch

This is a very clear demonstration of the way a girl can change her appearance rapidly through a switch in her hairdo. Sally Ann Howes, who plays Eliza Doolittle in the New York company of "My Fair Lady," goes through a number of changes in hairstyles in the course of the musical. Here, she wears (left)

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Some girls prefer to appear always as the typical outdoor girl wearing casual clothes and wind-blown, tousled hairdos. Others want to seem at all times sleek and sophisticated.

But there are many of us who would like to be the "woman of mystery"—the gal who can be so perfectly what the occasion demands that her escort of the evening wonders if she can possibly be the same date he took to the beach that afternoon.

To be a quick-change artist can be fun, for you can surprise yourself with the results as greatly as you amaze your friends. Clothes, of course, can make a startling transformation, but the way you wear your hair will add the final touch to the picture.

For those whose hair is long, this creates no problem. There are many styles to choose from if you have the hair to work with. And today, with many different hair pieces available, anyone who wants to may have a variety of hair styles.

It would be hard to find a better example of how different hairdos can change your appearance than the stages passed through by Sally Ann Howes in her role as Eliza Doolittle in "My Fair Lady." When the play opens, her hair is straggly and grimy, for she is, after all, a street urchin. As her education in refinement and English progresses, she wears her hair long—the style of an attractive young girl.

For the ballroom scene, when she is presented as a famous beauty, her hair is worn in a lovely crown of curls. And for less formal wear, still in the role of a fine lady, her hair is drawn up and away from her face and secured in the back with two figure-eight twists.

As she runs the gamut from rags to pretty clothes, and then on to ballroom elegance, Eliza's hair styles change accordingly. And with each change, it's her hairdo that makes the portrayal sheer perfection.

For those of us with shorn locks, here's good news. Most of these changes were effected with artificial hair pieces. So it's not necessary to go through the untidy mess of letting your hair grow in order to have a variety of styles.

Why not get into the act? It's always fun to change the way you wear your hair. On formal occasions, be elegant right up to the top of your head, even if you've worn short, breezy curls shopping the same afternoon.

If you haven't got the hair to work with for an elegant coiffure, it couldn't matter less. You can always buy it!

long hair in an unsophisticated style suitable to a young girl. Then (center) she becomes very sophisticated for the ballroom scene and her appearance is completely changed. She wears a beautiful crown of curls. For the following scene, she wears (right) a simpler style pulled back into a double figure eight.

POPULATION INCREASE, 1955-1970

ANTICIPATED WATER PROBLEMS BY 1970

WATER, A VALUABLE RESOURCE—The direct connection between population increase and growing water shortages is strikingly shown in maps above, prepared from projections of the U.S. Census Bureau and Geological Survey data. Two areas in particular, the Midwest and Southwest, are expected to feel the pinch increasingly, warns the Population Reference Bureau. In 1960, the per capita daily consumption of water (amount used divided by population) was 530 gallons. In 1950, it was 1,240. By 1970, it is expected to climb to 1,947 gallons.

SAYS RELATIONS COULD BE BETTER WITH FOOD BANK

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP) — Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker says Canadian-United States economic relations could be improved by establishment of a NATO food bank.

He said the food bank would both help eliminate food surpluses and make strategic food reserves available in the event of war.

In an address at Wesleyan University's 126th commencement Sunday, the Canadian leader said the plan is part of a four-pronged "imaginative policy that could improve Canadian-United States economic relations."

Diefenbaker received an honorary doctor of laws degree.

1. Creation of legislative Canadian-United States relations committees in Parliament and Congress.

2. Removal of "overhanging" surpluses of wheat and other storable farm products.

3. Joint action by Canada and the United States on unemployment problems.

Eskimo Life Wasn't Always So Cold

WASHINGTON (AP)—Life wasn't always so cold for the Eskimos. The Smithsonian Institution reported today that the Eskimos originally reached the arctic from the warmer climates of Europe and Inner Asia.

Their migration began more than 10,000 years ago in the Middle Stone Age.

Thus, said the Smithsonian, the Eskimos can claim the distinction of being the first American people whose culture has been traced to a specific time and place in the Old World.

The Smithsonian's report was based on the studies of Dr. Henry B. Collins, specialist in the Institute's Bureau of American Ethnology. Collins' belief that the Eskimos migrated from Europe and Asia was based on a close study of artifacts of the Middle Stone Age period.

In some anthropological circles a view has prevailed that the Eskimos were merely one branch of the North American Indian who went north to the icy wastelands some 2,000 years ago.

But Collins found that implements of early Eskimo culture bore strong resemblance to primitive tools found among remains of European and Asian hominids of Stone Age man.

Last Of Six Women Starts Talkathon

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — The last of six women in a talking contest for $1,500 worth of household appliances started her chatterbox routine early today.

She was a 24-year-old housewife, Mrs. Frank Williams, who had a rugged task ahead of her.

All five previous contestants had broken the record of 26½ hours set by a college girl on a recent television network show.

No. 5, Miss V. Brewer, 26-year-old clothing store clerk, had the best time so far, 38 hours 21 minutes and 2 seconds, before quitting shortly after 1 a.m. today.

Miss Brewer said after she finished that she felt fine.

The women had a 2½-minute rest period every hour as they continued the talkfest one by one in the window of a household appliance store.

Waiting to challenge the winner was Ernie Frey, Fayetteville woman television personality who thought up the contest.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Edward Paul Jones of Corpus Christi said today her son, Capt. Paul E. Jones, 36, is one of the nine Army men being held by East German Communists after landing inside the satellite Saturday.

Mrs. Jones said she has received a long-distance call from her daughter-in-law in Frankfurt, Germany, saying Jones was aboard the helicopter. Mrs. Jones said her daughter-in-law was notified by the Army.

Jones is a veteran of 18 years Army service. He and his wife have five children. They live in Frankfurt.

WHEAT HOLDS, BUT OTHER GRAINS WEAK

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat held about steady, but other grain futures were weak in a slow decline today on the Board of Trade.

Wheat derived its steadiness from a report that weekend rain in the Southwest had delayed the harvest in some areas and word that Yugoslavia had bought a fair amount of grain from U.S. dealers.

Weakness of the other grains generally was related to reports of the weekend rain but the Department of Agriculture announced it had rejected all subsidy bids Friday on almost two million bushels of corn for export.

Carlot grain receipts in Chicago were estimated at: wheat 16 cars, corn 283, oats 49, rye 6, barley 27 and soybeans 112.

At the close, wheat was ¼¢, cent a bushel higher, July $3.83½; corn ¼¢ lower, July $1.29½; oats ¼¢ lower, July $1.14½; rye unchanged to ¼¢ lower, July $1.25½; soybeans ¼¢-1½¢ higher, July $2.27-27½; land 3 cents a hundred pounds higher to 2 cents lower, July $12.20.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market drifted aimlessly early this afternoon in moderately active trading.

Prices were mixed with a slight tendency toward the downside.

Most leading stocks were either unchanged or showed fractional changes. A few moved around a point either way.

Having gone to repeated new highs for the year last week the market appeared to be consolidating its gains, brokers said. Some profit taking was apparent.

Selected oils, coppers, rails and tobacco improved. Small losers appeared in many of the major groups. Steadiness in the down-side. Motors showed little change.

The rails as a group were off slightly on average.

Lorillard, Du Pont and Kennecott were up about a point. Union Carbide fell close to a point.

A big 16,000-share block of National Steel was traded at 52½ off ¼. Another big one, 18,000 shares of Middle South Utilities, was off ¾ at 42.

U.S. government bonds were steady to slightly lower.

More Wet Weather Outlook For U.S. Company Asked To Explain How It Got Channel

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More wet weather was the outlook for broad areas of the country today in the wake of Sunday's violent storms in sections of the Midwest.

Tornado winds lashed areas in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Kansas as heavy rain and hail swept the central Plains states eastward into the lower Great Lakes region.

A tornado struck the southeast edge of New Castle, Ind., causing an estimated $75,000 damage to property. No injuries were reported. Twisters also damaged some houses at La Porte City, Iowa. Most severe storms in Illinois were in the northwestern part of the state.

GREEK, TURKISH CLASHES BREAK OUT FOR 3RD DAY

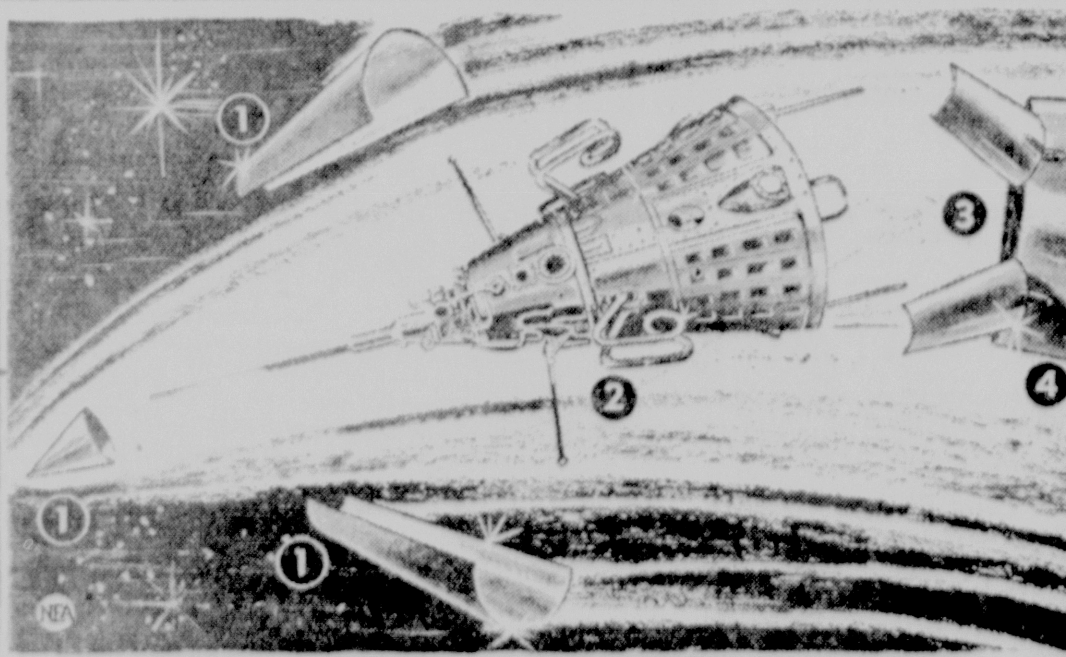

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Clashes between Greek and Turkish Cypriots broke out today for the third straight day.

The new violence aroused great indignation in Greece. The Greek delegate to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council prepared to ask the NATO group to consider the new flareup on Cyprus at its weekly meeting Tuesday.

The Turks bitterly oppose the Greek demand for independence from Britain and union with Greece. The Turks want the island partitioned between the two communities.

An Aythya cow owned by Frank Lindley of Snow Camp, S.C., has produced 102,403 pounds of milk in ten years, says the National Aythya Breeder's Assn. Today.

A sporting goods store and a tavern adjoining were damaged apparently occurred in the restaurant several hours after it had closed. The roof collapsed shortly after firemen reached the scene.

SPUTNIK AND SPUTNIKETTES — Russia's huge Sputnik III had four small companions placed in orbit with it on May 15, according to the Soviet newspaper Pravda. Drawing above, based on a diagram published in the official paper, shows: (1) protective nose cone and shields, separated; (2) Sputnik III; (3) expanded shields, attached to; (4) carrier rocket. Four objects were sighted over this country shortly after the satellite was launched. The rocket and Sputnik III are still being observed and are now traveling about a half hour apart. But the nose cone and shields, being light and more susceptible to atmospheric friction, may already have fallen.

Hope Accepts Degree With Quip About Pal Bing

QUINCY, Ill. (AP) — With a quip about his pal Bing Crosby, comedian Bob Hope accepted an honorary doctor of letters degree from Quincy College Sunday.

"Crosby would say I bought it, of course," Hope remarked, "and would want to see an affidavit."

A similar degree was conferred on Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.) who, because of another commitment, was unable to attend the exercises. Kennedy's sister, Mrs. Robert Shriver of Chicago, accepted it for him.

Hope's wife, Delores, received the Franciscan Wife and Mother of the Year Award. The Hopes have four children.

Seventy-three seniors also received their degrees from the Rev. Julian Woods, president of Quincy College.

Six-Year-Old Water Diversion Fight Nears End

WASHINGTON (AP)—A six-year-old congressional fight over Lake Michigan water diversion appeared likely today to reach its final stage some time this month.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) disclosed the Senate Rivers and Harbors Subcommittee will hold hearings within three weeks on a house-approved measure to permit Chicago to divert more water from the lake.

The White House has tried to appease opponents of this proposal by modifying the bill—without much luck.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said no progress has been made or is likely on the compromise attempt. Canada and Great Lakes states other than Illinois still don't like the legislation.

Many congressional observers say if the bill fails to become law this year there is little chance for future success.

A 1930 Supreme Court decision limits Chicago to diversion of 1,500 cubic feet of water a second from the lake into the Illinois Waterway aside from water pumped for domestic use. The bill would increase the limit by 1,000 cubic feet for a three-year test period.

Pilot Killed Near Joliet

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — A pilot was killed Sunday when his single-engine plane crashed into a field about 10 miles north of Joliet.

Dead was Raymond Tanke, 41, of Chicago.

The Rev. Casimir Dreongowski, 27, of St. Barbara's Parish, Chicago, a passenger in the plane, suffered serious injuries.

He crawled out of the plane wreckage and to an adjacent farm house where he notified authorities.

State police said Tanke's flight apparently originated from the Chicago area. They said his plane clipped some trees at an altitude of about 100 feet, circled sharply and crashed.

UAW Checks Rank And File Walkout

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union checked a threatened rank and file walkout at Chrysler Corp. as auto peace talks resumed today.

Negotiations returned at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler although no new proposals have been reported on the table to replace expired contracts covering some 500,000 auto workers.

An uneasy truce was reached at the Chrysler missile plant in suburban Center Line, which makes parts for the Redstone and Jupiter missiles.

A membership meeting Sunday produced loud demands for a walkout at the plant today. Members and UAW Local 1245 protested a 7-cent annual improvement factor and 2-cent cost of living allowance granted June 1 to non-union employees.

London Bus Strike Takes On Grim Aspect

LONDON (AP)—The five-week-old London bus strike, accepted by regular passengers as little more than an unpleasant inconvenience, took on a grim aspect today. A sympathy walkout by some subway workers put a crimp in morning rush hour transportation.

Only 79 of the 1,000 motormen and conductors who handle the rush-hour subway trains failed to report to work, but that was enough to cancel 40 of the 500 trains.

Sardine-like conditions have prevailed on the subways since London's 84,000 buses went off the streets last month.

The sympathy walkout was called by rank-and-file workers over the objections of union leaders. They said they would walk out every Monday until the bus strike is settled.

There was no move in sight for a settlement in the bus strike. The 50,000 drivers and conductors are seeking more pay.

Cardinal Fans Get Their Money's Worth

ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Louis Cardinal fans who went out to Busch Stadium Sunday got their baseball money's worth.

The Cardinals and the Philadelphia Phillies put on an endurance contest in the second game, not to mention an extra inning in the first, and wound up setting a major league record for playing time in a double-header.

The opener lasted for 3:25 and the second for 3:59, totaling 7:24. The Phils won the second game 6-4 when Harry Anderson blasted a two-run homer into Grand avenue. The Red Birds took the first contest 6-5.

The previous longest double-header was a 7:17 affair between the Washington Senators and Yankees at New York on Aug. 13, 1952.

The longest double-header before Sunday in the National League was a 6:46 game between the Dodgers and New York Giants on Aug. 7, 1952.

The split bill left the Cards tied for third place in the National League with Cincinnati.

Snead Almost Forgets Dallas Open Check

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—Sam Snead was so anxious to get to the scene of the National Open—where he'll make his eighteenth try—that he almost went off without his check for winning the $25,000 Dallas Open Sunday.

Snead took first money here for the second year in a row when he won a playoff with Julius Boros. Gary Player and John McMillin. He attended a hastily arranged "presentation ceremony" where they gave him a dummy check because the real check hadn't yet been written. Then Sam sprinted for an automobile.

Right behind him came Jim Lawson, the tournament director, who managed to throw the authentic check for $3,500 in the window of the car as Snead roared off with a police escort. Sam was catching a plane for Tulsa.

Snead took one of the finest tournament records of the year to Tulsa where he'll shoot for the title that has so frustratingly eluded him since he started trying for it in 1937. He has played each year that the open has been held since then, and three times managed to finish second. It has become quite an obsession with Snead, who at 46 says he thinks he'll make it before he reaches 50.

Snead has the lowest stroke average in golf—69.20 in 20 rounds. He shot a closing 1-under-par 69 to tie McMillin, the four freshman from Fair Oaks, Calif.; Boros the Sphinx-like man from Mid-Pines, N. C.; and Player, the youthful star from Johannesburg, South Africa, all for first place, each with 72 or 73 holes.

In the sudden death playoff, Snead made short work of his rivals. He banged in a 16-footer on the first extra hole for a birdie and Player and Boros took pars, while McMillin didn't even putt out when he saw he could get nothing better than a par.

McMillin started the final round leading by three strokes with 198 for 54 holes.

But he ran into trouble in the stretch and wound up with a 74 and 72 for 72 holes, while Snead and Boros had 69's and Player shot a 68.

Stan Musial, now a member of baseball's 3,000-hit club, made his first major league hit off Jim Tobin of the Boston Braves, Sept. 17, 1912, in St. Louis.

Tim Tam May Be Forced To Quit Racing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tim Tam, the Calumet Farm's Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner who suffered a bone break and lost the Belmont Stakes on Saturday, may be permanently retired from racing.

That was the opinion today as the flashy son of Tom Fool rested in his barn at Belmont Park, awaiting a final decision by trainer Jimmy Jones and owner, Mrs. Gene Markey, who is in Europe.

In any event, the colt who was beaten 6 lengths by Irish-bred Cavan in the mile and one half race won't be seen on a race-track for some months. Jones said X-rays of Timmy's right front leg disclosed a break in the sesamoid bone which is between the ankle and hoof.

Tim Tam's mishap, which may have cost Calumet its third triple crown and racing a chance to hail a ninth winner of the coveted Derby, Preakness, Belmont grand slam, was the highlight of an active day on the thoroughbred front.

The Kerr Stable's Round Table got back on the winning track in the $53,000 Argonaut Mile at Hollywood Park, winning by a nose over How Now after a thrilling stretch drive. Seaneen, who upset Round Table in the $100,000 California two weeks ago, finished third.

Round Table, carrying 132 pounds, paid $340 and earned $30,000 to shoot his all-time winnings to $1,056,264. Another big one and he'll surpass Citation who retired with $1,083,760.

Boston Dumps Chisox Into Last Place Tie With Twin-Bill Win

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
There is a palace revolution in the American League. Three teams are over 500. The new rebels are the Boston Red Sox, who finally are making a move.

By taking a pair Sunday from Chicago—thus dumping the White Sox into a last-place tie with the Detroit Tigers—the Red Sox stretched their modest winning streak to five.

With Jackie Jensen hitting two homers, including a two-run blast in the 10th, Boston took the opener from Chicago 6-5. A pair of two-run homers by Jim Piersall and Gene Stephens boosted them to a 4-1 sweep. Boston moved within eight games of first place.

Cleveland's two victories over the leading New York Yankees, 14-1 and 5-4, made the league standing a bit more respectable. Kansas City now trails by 7 1/2 after splitting with Baltimore. Hal Brown and George Zvernick teamed up to hand the A's their first shutout of the year in the opener 4-0. But Kansas City managed an even break, winning the second 2-1 with only five hits.

Despite home runs by Gus Zernial, Frank Bolling and Billy Martin of the Tigers, Washington sneaked home with a 4-3 decision for Pedro Ramos.

Thanks to their old sparring mates, the Dodgers, who knocked off Milwaukee 12-4, the San Francisco Giants still are leading the National League by one full game. Cincinnati came up with three in the ninth to nip the Giants 6-3 but Los Angeles pounded out 19 hits to make it five in a row over the Braves. Moe Drabowsky shut out the Cardinals with one hit as Chicago won 4-0.

St. Louis and Philadelphia went extra innings twice for a split. The Cardinals took the first game 6-5 despite Harry Anderson's two homers and the Phils won the second 6-4 on Anderson's two-run homer in the 14th.

The Red Sox are getting a reputation as come-from-behind kids. They rallied in all four games 4-1 sweep Boston moved within eight games of first place.

Don Buddin, Dick Gernert and Jensen all had hit homers off Billy Pierce before Jensen again connected with one on in the 10th. Boston had only five hits while Chicago had 19 in defeat, including five by Billy Goodman. Leo Kiely was the winner.

Piersall and Stephens, Ted Williams' replacement, did the heavy work while Dave Sisler held Chicago to six hits in the second game.

Johnny Kuck, knocked out in the first inning, became a two-time loser for the day when Russ Nixon hit a home run off him in relief in the seventh inning of the second game. Colavito also hit a two-run homer in that second contest.

Ray Narleski and Dick Tomaneck were the Indian winners. Among other Yankee misdeeds, Mickey Mantle dropped a fly ball for a three-base error that opened the door for Cleveland to score five times after two were out in the third inning of the weird opener.

The Orioles' Brown allowed four hits in six innings before giving way to Zvernick, who slugged a two-run triple. Bob Martyn's throw cut down the potential tying run at the plate to save Kansas City's 2-1 margin in the eighth inning of the second game.

Gus Zernial tied a major league record at Washington with his ninth homer as a pinch hitter.

Nixon hit a home run off him in relief in the seventh inning of the second game. Colavito also hit a two-run homer in that second contest.

With Jackie Jensen hitting two homers, including a two-run blast in the 10th, Boston took the opener from Chicago 6-5. A pair of two-run homers by Jim Piersall and Gene Stephens boosted them to a 4-1 sweep. Boston moved within eight games of first place.

Cleveland's two victories over the leading New York Yankees, 14-1 and 5-4, made the league standing a bit more respectable. Kansas City now trails by 7 1/2 after splitting with Baltimore. Hal Brown and George Zvernick teamed up to hand the A's their first shutout of the year in the opener 4-0. But Kansas City managed an even break, winning the second 2-1 with only five hits.

Despite home runs by Gus Zernial, Frank Bolling and Billy Martin of the Tigers, Washington sneaked home with a 4-3 decision for Pedro Ramos.

Thanks to their old sparring mates, the Dodgers, who knocked off Milwaukee 12-4, the San Francisco Giants still are leading the National League by one full game. Cincinnati came up with three in the ninth to nip the Giants 6-3 but Los Angeles pounded out 19 hits to make it five in a row over the Braves. Moe Drabowsky shut out the Cardinals with one hit as Chicago won 4-0.

St. Louis and Philadelphia went extra innings twice for a split. The Cardinals took the first game 6-5 despite Harry Anderson's two homers and the Phils won the second 6-4 on Anderson's two-run homer in the 14th.

The Red Sox are getting a reputation as come-from-behind kids. They rallied in all four games 4-1 sweep Boston moved within eight games of first place.

Don Buddin, Dick Gernert and Jensen all had hit homers off Billy Pierce before Jensen again connected with one on in the 10th. Boston had only five hits while Chicago had 19 in defeat, including five by Billy Goodman. Leo Kiely was the winner.

Piersall and Stephens, Ted Williams' replacement, did the heavy work while Dave Sisler held Chicago to six hits in the second game.

Johnny Kuck, knocked out in the first inning, became a two-time loser for the day when Russ Nixon hit a home run off him in relief in the seventh inning of the second game. Colavito also hit a two-run homer in that second contest.

Ray Narleski and Dick Tomaneck were the Indian winners. Among other Yankee misdeeds, Mickey Mantle dropped a fly ball for a three-base error that opened the door for Cleveland to score five times after two were out in the third inning of the weird opener.

The Orioles' Brown allowed four hits in six innings before giving way to Zvernick, who slugged a two-run triple. Bob Martyn's throw cut down the potential tying run at the plate to save Kansas City's 2-1 margin in the eighth inning of the second game.

Gus Zernial tied a major league record at Washington with his ninth homer as a pinch hitter.

Nixon hit a home run off him in relief in the seventh inning of the second game. Colavito also hit a two-run homer in that second contest.

Boston Dumps Chisox Into Last Place Tie With Twin-Bill Win

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
There is a palace revolution in the American League. Three teams are over 500. The new rebels are the Boston Red Sox, who finally are making a move.

By taking a pair Sunday from Chicago—thus dumping the White Sox into a last-place tie with the Detroit Tigers—the Red Sox stretched their modest winning streak to five.

With Jackie Jensen hitting two homers, including a two-run blast in the 10th, Boston took the opener from Chicago 6-5. A pair of two-run homers by Jim Piersall and Gene Stephens boosted them to a 4-1 sweep. Boston moved within eight games of first place.

Scratch Single Spoils Moe's No-Hit Bid

CHICAGO (AP)—A scratch single, with the Cubs' infield shifted, spoiled young Moe Drabowsky's bid for a no-hit game Sunday.

The 22-year-old right-hander, relying mostly on fast balls, pitched the best game of his career for the Cubs in blanking the Pittsburgh Pirates 4 to 0.

Ted Kluszewski got the only Pirate hit, a roller off the end of his bat in the second inning. If the infield shift hadn't been on for the big left-handed slugger, he probably would have been an easy out.

Manager Bob Scheffing of the Cubs defeated the shift on Kluszewski.

"It's a matter of percentage," Scheffing said. "He's hit more line drives than infield taps."

Drabowsky said after the rain-delayed opener of a scheduled double-header that "it was the fast ball that won for me."

"That's the best fast ball I've had this season," he said. "It was moving good."

Drabowsky, who was born in Poland, was signed out of Trinity College by the Cubs in 1956 for a $50,000 bonus contract and had a 13-15 record last year.

Moe fanned only 29 men, issued one walk and two Pirates reached first on errors. He struck out five as he posted his fourth win of the season against five losses.

Although Warren Hacker pitched a one-hit game for the Cubs in Milwaukee on May 21, 1955, Drabowsky's performance was the best by any Cub pitcher in Wrigley Field since Sam Jones pitched his no-hit, no-run game in a 4-0 win against Pittsburgh on May 12, 1955.

The one-hit performance was Drabowsky's first headline event since he was pitching against the St. Louis Cardinals in Chicago May 13. That was the day the Cardinals' Stan Musial hammered out his 3,000th major league hit—a pinch double off Drabowsky.

The game was delayed 47 minutes by rain in the eighth inning with the Cubs leading 1 to 0. They got three more in the 14th. The second game was called in the first inning after another downpour.

Passes Jobless Pay Bill Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — With record speed, the House passed and sent to the Senate today a bill appropriating $965,700,000 to finance the emergency unemployment compensation law Congress enacted last Wednesday.

The action by voice vote came after a brief explanation of the measure and less than an hour after the House Appropriations Committee had recommended the allotment.

The amount approved includes 640 million dollars for additional payments to unemployed insured workers who have exhausted their benefits. The amount payable depends on the terms of state programs and will range as high as 15 weeks in several states.

Administrative expenses take up the balance of the allotment.

Under the new federal plan, one state has signed up and another has set a date for starting payments.

"Oh, no," I said. "Not again in the same night. Well, go ahead." I started to lift my arms.

"No, señor," he said. "I do not wish to search you. My only word for you now is that you should be more careful with whom you associate. Your companion is part of a group which is the enemy of the state. Her brother is already in prison."

"Thanks for the warning," I said. "Now, I have to get her home before she's exposed to worse influences."

"You do not understand," he said. "Señorita Sanjurjo is being arrested."

Carnicero took her by the arm and led her to the police car parked at the curb. He helped her politely into the rear seat of the car and climbed in after her. He closed the door and looked through the window to make sure that I was watching. Then he lifted one hand and deliberately smashed her across the mouth.

I had already taken two steps toward the car before I realized that this was the one thing I must not do. It was exactly what Carnicero wanted and it wouldn't help either one of us. I stopped and shoved my hands in my pockets so he wouldn't see the clenched fists. He grinned wolfishly at me through the window, then the police car drove away.

I stood there long enough to get better control of myself, then finally hailed a taxi. I had the driver take me back to the hotel and wait. I went upstairs and took the holster and gun from beneath my shirts and buckled it around my chest. I went back down to the cab and gave the driver Juana's address.

It was a few minutes past 10 when the cab stopped in front of her apartment house. I paid off the driver and went up. I knocked on the door.

"Come in," she called.

She was standing in front of a full length mirror admiring herself. She looked up and smiled at me. "You are late," she said.

"How much did Carnicero pay you for telling him I was going to be carrying a gun when I left the hotel today? The gun he couldn't find. This one?" I slipped the gun from my holster and held it loosely in my hand.

Her eyes got big as she looked at it.

"I do not work for him."

"Oh, no? You were the only person I told that I was going out on something and that I would be carrying a gun. And I didn't make the call from my room; I'm sure they listen in on that phone. Carnicero was waiting for me. He knew what he expected to find and was surprised when he didn't find it. You were the only one who could have sent him on that little errand."

I REACHED for her and she started to spin away. I tried to grab her shoulder, but instead I got a handful of dress. There was a ripping sound and my dress came away in my hand. She was left in just a wisp of silk around her middle.

All the fight seemed to go out of her. "I am sorry, Milo," she said faintly. "I really liked being with you. I didn't want to report on you. But Carnicero made me do it. And he has never paid me anything."

"No? For what, then?"

"My father is in Santa Monica. It is only because of the work I have done for Carnicero that he has stayed alive. If I refused they would kill him."

"You're a bigger fool than I said you'd be if you did it for money," I said.

"You haven't really kept your father alive. The minute you're no longer useful they'll kill him — and probably you, too. And that minute is practically on top of you, baby. I don't even have to tell the underground about you; they're already certain. You'd better start picking a soft place to land."

AS I reached the street, a car screeched to a stop in front of the building. The door opened and Carnicero got out. He was alone. Except for a gun in his hand.

"Señor," he said, "what a pleasure to run into you again. Please get your hands above your head. I think I will try searching you again."

I'd been foolish just because I wanted to tell Juana off. I hadn't stopped to think. Since Juana was spying for the police, they probably had her apartment bugged. Carnicero had known I was going there, so he'd alerted the man who listened, who in turn probably had reached him by radio. I raised my hands.

He stepped around behind me, holding his gun against my back, and patted me under the left arm. He grinned with satisfaction and reached in to snake my gun from my holster.

"This is most serious, señor," he said.

"I'll bet it is," I said. "Especially if it's somebody you want to get. But even with that as an excuse, I don't think they'll like it if you kill me."

"Not just yet. I wish to have a private talk with you and then we will see what is to happen."

I turned and walked back upstairs, wondering what the pitch was. When we reached Juana's door I stopped.

"Open the door and walk in," he ordered.

I threw open the door and went in with Carnicero right behind me. Juana had already put on a robe and was just coming out of the bedroom. Her face stiffened with fear as she saw the two of us.

Noted Editor Tells Graduating Class Of Challenges, Rewards

It does not matter how great the challenge is but rather how well it is met. This generation will fare as well as any before it in conquering the problem which it faces."

Such were the main ideas expressed by Dr. Bruce Catton as he addressed the members and friends of the Class of 1958 during commencement exercises Sunday afternoon.

The 90 minute program began at 3:30 p. m. as the academic procession made its way down the broad sidewalk leading from the rear of Tanner library and then across the campus to the platform erected in the college grove. After the invocation by Rev. Clyde J. Steckel, college chaplain, President L. Vernon Caine introduced the speaker who, in his own words, "neither frightened nor inspired, but simply recounted for the graduating class the dangers, challenges and the rewards which lay ahead."

At the close of Dr. Catton's address the college choir under the direction of Mrs. Ruth M. Bellatti presented the anthem "With a Voice of Singing." Dean of the College Ernest G. Hildner, Jr., presented all members of the Class of 1958 who were candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. President Caine officially conferred the degree. Dean Hildner then presented the candidates for the Bachelor of Science, and President Caine orally conferred those degrees. The candidates then were called to the platform one at a time when the degrees "were presented by President Caine."

Confers Honorary Degrees
Rev. Clyde J. Steckel introduced Ashby E. Bladen who received the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Letters. The presentation was made by President Caine, Dr. J. P. Smith, head of the college history department, introduced Dr. Franklin Daniel Scott who received the Doctor of Laws degree. The Doctor of Laws degree was also given to Dr. Bruce Catton who was introduced as a candidate by Dean Hildner. Dr. Nicholas Collias presented the last of the Honorary Degree candidates Dr. Charles Henry Rammelkamp who received the Doctor of Science degree. During the presentation of this degree President Caine departed from the usual form of presentation and asked that Dr. Rammelkamp's mother, Mrs. Rhoda Capps Rammelkamp, stand to share the applause for her son.

During his annual message the president called attention to the honors and prizes printed in the program and also to the In Memoriam sheet honoring all the alumni who had died in the past year. He asked that various members of the returning Alumni stand among which were Raymond Woods, Class of 1889; Dr. Willard Garrett, 1895; Joseph Winterbottom, 1903; Miss Ruth Bailey and Mrs. Laura Gunn Davy, the only two members of the Class of 1908 present.

Balanced Budget
President Caine called attention to the fact the college had again balanced its budget and that the endowment for the institution had now gone over the two million dollar mark. He mentioned the fact that five more of the college had received their doctorates during the past year giving more than half of the full time faculty doctor's degrees. In closing he said that the outlook for Illinois College is brighter and more promising now than for many years.

Following the exercises all attending the program were invited to visit with various friends and visiting alumni at punch bowls placed at various spots on the campus.

Baccalaureate Services
Earlier in the day the Class of 1958 heard the Rev. Harold Martin, past Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A., speak on the subject "Pioneers of Faith." He told the graduates of the far east which he recently visited have reacted negatively to the Little Rock situation, the President's illness, America's loss of prestige over Sputnik, and the degrading filth produced by many of America's magazines and movies. He said that the United States is the nation to which the whole world is looking for guidance. What happens here is felt all over the world.

The college choir presented the Anthem "Spirit of God." The invocation was given by the Rev. Lande Eitzen of the Congregational church; the morning prayer by Rev. Clyde Steckel; and the Benediction by Rev. Harold Martin.

Mrs. Ruth M. Bellatti was organist for the program.

Alumni Luncheon
Dean Ernest Hildner was awarded honorary membership in the Illinois College Alumni Association at the luncheon held in Baxter dining hall Sunday noon. The resolution expressed the appreciation of the Alumni Association for the services which Dr. Hildner has rendered as Dean over the past 20 years.

Congressman Sid Simpson of the 20th Illinois district Monday notified the Journal Courier by telegram that the civil functions sub-committee on appropriations has approved $500,000 construction funds for the Sny Island Drainage and Levee district, in Pike and Adams counties along the Mississippi river.

"The full committee must still approve, which they will no doubt do," Congressman Simpson stated.

He continued in the telegram: "This appropriation bill should be before House of Representatives this week or first part of next. This is first construction funds since 2 million 5 hundred thousand was appropriated in 1948 only to be impounded because of the Korean War and project stopped. $500,000 construction funds is for fiscal 1958.

There is no question but additional construction funds will be included in budget in engineers' recommendation starting next session of Congress in January 1959.
